FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

The speculative spirit on the Stock Etchange con-tinues strong, and railway shares are in the ascendant. The most active are Eric, Michigan Southern, Fort Wayne and Northwestern. The demand for the last shore for the second week of October having been $159,504, against $139,500 for the corresponding week hast year—showing an increase of $19,974. Confidence in the value of railway property constitutes the main support of the present speculation for a rise; and next to this in importance to the bulls is the abundance of money. The Stock Exchange is now freely supbeing at six per cent, and the exceptions at five bree becoming more numerous. The tendency owards increased case is strengthened by the laburaements of the Treasury in payments of the interest on the seven-thirty lean, and the return low from the West is strengthened. on the seven-thirty loan, and the return

By a no warrangement, decided upon yesterday, a con-dimous call of stocks from ten to four now takes place at the regular board, the object apparently being to offer facilities for the transaction of the entire business of Wall street, thereby heading off the open board. The result is, however, a wearisome repotition of calls, while the time over which they are distributed gives an appear gular board, and the improvement in prices sustained. Subsequently the market was harmored by the bears, but without much effect, and at half-past five it closed steady at the following quotations:—New York Central, 114% a 3%; Eric, 73% a %; Reading, 106% a 107; Michigan Scathere, 82% a %; Cheveland and Pittsburg, 90% a 91; Reck Island, 105 a 105%; Fort Wavne, 107 a 107%; Northwestern, 53% a %—do, preferred, 73% a 3%. The gold market opened firm at 138%, but gradually sectioned to 137% a % at the close of business. Loans tore generally made "flat" and at 3 a 4 per cent for arrying. The failure of the Ways and Means Coramic. to not upon Mr. Boutwell's bill providing for the sale deced no perceptible effect upon the pramium in the course of speculation. The speculato's are generally anxious that it should pass, as, if carried into effect, it anxious that it should pass, as, if carried into effect, it would soon place them in con-rol of the market. At present the Treasury hoard sops down the premium and kills speculation, but if this heard were to be reduced in the manner provided by the bill referred to the Gold Room would lake the gold, and the Treasury would no longer be able to riduence the course of the premium. It would be as by determined. panic in Eagle ad caused more than thirty millions of gold to be as apped from this country within a few weeks millions of three years seven-thirty notes, redeemable in currency at maturity, or convertible into dive-twenties, at the option of the holder, are still cutstanding. SKATING.

Afternoon Concert-Skating at the Fifth Avenue Park and the Brooklyn Ponds.

Mr. McMillan yesterday had a decided advantage over his fellow proprietors of skating ponds, for the Fifth Avenue Park was the only lake in the city whereupon a broad, thick surface of ice offered a fair field for the cuthusiasts of the sport. At two o'clock Dodworth's full band—comprising forty pieces, under the leadership of Harvey B. Dedworth-was on the sport, and full band—comprising forty pieces, under the leadership of Harvey B. Dadworth—was on the spot, and executed in masterly style the morecain of a well-selected programme. The stating community gathered in force, and to the sounds of sweet music, the steel-shod lads and lastics glided to and fro, repartless of the chaos of mud and sists yielde beyond the limits of the lake. At night the pout was illuminated and the attendance of stators large. These afternoon promenade concerts will become a marked feature of the senson at McMillan's Park, and the lovers of molody, as well as the patrons of our metropolitan rinks, will have every inducement to patronize the manager whe thus endeavors to merit public encouragement.

Shrhan, Kane's bartender, who was placed under arrost yesterday, was in attendance during the greater part of the investigation. He seemed to be suffering from an attack of fever, his face being greatly fluched. He wore a moist bandage round his head, and towards the close of the examination the Deputy Coroner gave him a prescription and sent him to bed. He is, however, still under arrest, and Kane's offer to pay his expenses at a hotel, where a guard might be maintained over him, was refused.

The investigation will be resumed to-day at half-past two o'clock, and as only two witnesses remain to be examined it will probably be concluded.

The following evidence in reference to the Compton

House calamity was taken before Goroner Gamble yesterday morning —

Mr. Wm. Woodward, residing at Fourth avenue and Twenty-asyenth street, being duly swora deposes and says:—I sold one berrel of oit, known as gazoine chemlealized, to Mr. Compton—the same as manufactured by all parties making a light oil; Mr. Compton was aware of its inflammability, as it had been shown to him before it was sold; he also informed me when I sold it he kept it in the cellar, away from the fire; instructanes were given him for using the oil, not to fill their samps in the night time nor to bring them near a fire; as heretofore said the article was inflammable and not explosive in the lamps; I know nothing in regard to the oil taking fire no more than I have seen in the newspapers; I underitand fromone of the boys in the hotel that the oil was kept very near the boiler, and the oil took fire from some shavings on the floor near the barret.

The further testimony in this matter will be taken this morning at ten o'clock before Coroner Gambie, at Bellevue Hospital.

THE REMOVAL OF GEN. SCHOULER.

Bowrox, Doc. 18, 1866.

In the correspondence concerning the removal of General Schouler, just published, Governor Bullock says that it was not the lack of any agreeable personal relations that led to the removal of the Adjutant, but there were two paramount readers that guided his official action. One of these was the Adjutant's sharp letter against General Butler's election, and the other was his known positive and public opposition thereto.

The Governor says that in Macsachusetts persons in government positions of official trust and patronage are expected and required by the people to share in their political convictions and represent as far as possible their political opinions. At no time have the people of the State shown a higher determination to have concern be-State shown a higher determination to have concord between themselves and their public servants than during the present year. No one up for public office could have succeeded had be pursued a course such as that of Adjutant Schouler towards General Butler, and being a representative of the opinions of the people the Governor must pay all due deference to the judgment of those who would reject Schouler were the office which he has held elective. Secondly, the Adjutant General is Chief of the Staff, with personal and confidential relations toward the Governor, and this ought to be a relation toward the Governor, and this ought to be a relation of political agreement; budget inquiries have been extensively made from all parts of the State whether or not the Executive countenanced opposition to a regularly nominated republican candidate, and he was forced to say that as determor of the State he did not countenance that conduct either then or now, and by the dismissal of General Schouler he had relieved himself once too soon of any postable imputation against him. He had been led to believe that the Adjutant would have resigned after writing the letter decegatory to General Butler, and he thought it was certainly his duty to have done so. The Governor, in closing, testings to the faithfulness with which General Schouler discharged his duties during the war.

General Schouler, in his faul reply, does not resign, but says as the reasons for his removal appear to be entirely political and partiann, it would be contray to his desire to discuss them in an official communication, and farther, a modest self-respect also restrains him from doing so.

INQUEST ON THE BODY OF FARRELL, THE BURGLAN.

Yesterday morning Coroner Gamble held an inquest at Bellevue Hospital on the body of Patrick Farrell, the supposed burglar, recently shot near the Third avenue and Iwenty-first street by officer G. B. Kass, while discovered in a yard at that place. The following is the supposed burglar, recently shot near the Third avenue and Twenty-first street by officer G. B. Kass, while discovered in a yard at that place. The following is the testimony elicited:

Mrs. Mary Farrell, the mother of deceased, identified the body as that of her son, and also that he had always supported her while he had worked at his trade, shoe making; but that latterly he had got into bad company and had not done so. The witness was a very aged lady, and could scarciety bear up under the afficients. She believed the statoment of her son while lying at the polat of death—that his crime, if say, did not warrant the poor satisfaction of his death.
